

Hi Jeanne!

I just wanted to let you know that Sky is doing wonderful - he's such a sweetie pie! He's so playful and loving - Everyone has fallen in love with him. I wish I could say the same about Mara... she is very displeased =(Hopefully with slow and careful socialization they will become friends. I didn't realize until today that we left in such a hurry that we forgot to get Sky's vet check up paper! Goes to show you how tired we all were lol. Do you want to drop them in the mail or if you like I can swing down next week sometime... Whatever's more convenient for you!

Thanks!
Angie
