Jeanne,

We wanted to let you know that the kitten is doing great. The kids named her JAG, because she looks like a Jaguar, and she seems to like it. They were so excited! She was very nervous the first night, but by last night, she was running around, becoming familiar with our 1st floor. She is eating very well today and the only time she cries, is when we put her down, which is not often considering my 5 year old needs to hold her every second. Jag is amazing with the kids, she loves to be held by them, which is very unusual for a cat. Today she started purring and kneading her paws when we hold her, which is a great sign. She has also taken a special liking to my husband, and needs to be on him whenever he is in the house.

She also enjoys chasing her tail, which she can do for at least 5 minutes straight! I will send you pictures as soon as I figure out how to download them.

Thanks again, she is awesome.
